INDEX TO VOLUME CXXIV.

Abbot, A. C. Corrosive sublimate as a disinfectant, 591.
Abbot, S. L. Case of extraordinary accumulation of fæces, 109; œsophageal obstruction due to a piece of lettuce, 114.
Abbott, S. W. Recent progress in public hygiene, 287, 309.
Abdominal Surgery. The technique of successful abdominal and pelvic surgery, Wathen, W. H., 536.
Achorn, J. W. Tuberculosis in children: some phenomena attending initial injections with Koch's fluid, 64.
Ainhum. Todd, H. J. McC., 519.
Alapy. Sterilization of rubber catheters, 126.
Albuminuria. Etiology and prognosis, Jackson, H., 477, 482; physiological albuminuria, 539.
Alexeevsky. The red-rose petals as a remedy for diarrhœa, 494.
Allen, G. W. The treatment of acute urethritis, 525, 533; cases of renal colic, 627.
Alopecia universalis, Cathell, D. W., 586.
Amenorrhœa. Some forms of amenorrhœa and their treatment, Davenport, F. H., 380; amenorrhœa: clinical report of four cases successfully treated by galvanism, Strong, C. P., 382, 388.
Anatomy. Are anatomy and physiology liberal studies? 414; methods of teaching anatomy at the Harvard Medical School, especially corrosion preparations, Dwight, T., 475; recent progress in anatomy, Dwight, T., 554.
Andeer. Resorcin in septic poisoning, 197.
Andrews, E. Cadaver studies on the removal of the semilunar ganglion through the floor of the cranium, 537.
Aneurism. Suspected aneurism of the aorta, Knight, F. I., 65, 89; the cure of aneurism, Macewen, W., 222.
Aniline dyes. The subcutaneous use of aniline dyes, Mosetig and Stilling, 345.
Animals. Poison-proof animals, 101; the relation of diseases of animals to those of man, 297; tuberculosis of cattle in New York, 393.
Apostoli. Notes of five cases from Dr. Apostoli's clinic in Paris, Van Pelt, G. W., 283.
Appendicitis. A case of relapsing appendicitis in which the appendix was removed in an interval between the attacks, with recovery, Cabot, A. T., 57, 68; discussion by the Medical Society of the State of New York, 213; in recurring appendicitis is excision of the appendix during a remission a justifiable operation and if so, in what class of cases, and how, should it be done? Porter, C. B., 68, 325; specimen of an appendix, Elliot, J. W., 363; appendicitis: a year's experience in private practice, Elliot, J. W., 499; appendicitis and pericæcal inflammations, Morton, T. G., 510; recurrent appendicitis with adhesive bands about the head of the colon, operation followed by cure, Marcy, H. O., 524.
Army. The relations of contract surgeons to the general profession, 488.
Arrow poison of the pigmies, Parke, 590.
Arsenic. A new source of arsenic poisoning, Swift, W. N., 185; legislation concerning arsenic, 217; general peripheral neuritis, Folsom, C. F., 291; arsenic in the Massachusetts legislature, 390; legislation on arsenic in Massachusetts, 392; the character of the evidence as to the injuriousness of arsenic as a domestic poison, Putnam, J. J., 623.
Ashby, T. A. Ruptured tubal pregnancy, 586.
Asparagus. The effect of asparagus on the urine, Nencki, 495.
Astringents. The internal use of the simple astringents, Walker, M. A., 509.
Atropia. The use of atropia in treatment of localized muscular spasm, Leszynsky, W. M., 315.
Ayer, J. B. Varicella in an adult, 607.
Baginsky. The treatment of tetanus by injection, 274.
Baker, W. H. Fibro-sarcoma of both ovaries, cœliotomy, recovery, 335.
Barbot, L. J. Tidal drains at Charleston, S. C., 15.
Barnes, H. J. Sewage: application to land the best method of treatment, 229, 236, 256.
Bassi, G. Pathology of grief, 418.
Beach, H. H. A. Koch's remedy in Boston, 42.
Bell, A. N. Some of the sanitary features of Charleston, S. C., especially its artesian wells and its tidal drains, 15.
Benczur and Jonas. Thermo-palpation, 126.
Beri-beri in Japan, Takaki 20.
Berlioz. Microcidine, 591.
Bibliography. Agnew, D. H., the principles and practice of surgery, being a treatise on surgical diseases and injuries, 538; Agnew, W. P., treatment of hæmorrhoids and other non-malignant rectal diseases, 538; American Orthopedic Association, transactions, II, 514; Bateman, F., on aphasia, or loss of speech, and the localization of the faculty of articulate language, 365; Baudouin, M., hystéropexie abdominale antérieure et operations suspubiennes dans les rétrodéviations de l'utérus, 95; Bennett, C., the modern malady, or sufferers from "nerves," 340; Bennett, W. H., clinical lectures on varicose veins of the lower extremities, 514; Binet, A., on double consciousness, experimental psychological studies, 120; Bissell, M. T., household hygiene, 16; Boston, annual report of the Board of Health, 366; Boston City Hospital, report for 1890, 439; Browne, L., the throat and nose, and their diseases, 16; Campbell, H., flushing and morbid blushing, their pathology and treatment, 339; Drayton, H. S., human magnetism, 464; Edinger, L., twelve lectures on the structure of the central nervous system, 586; Edis, A. W., sterility in women, including its causation and treatment, 120; England, eighteenth annual report of the Local Government Board, 1888, 1889, 17; England, nineteenth annual report of the Local Government Board, 491; Gautier, G., le courant continu en gynécologie, 538, Graham, D., a treatise on massage, theoretical and practical, its history, mode of application and effects, indications and contra-indications, and results in over fifteen hundred cases, 514; Grandin, E. H., and Gunning, J. H., practical treatise on electricity in gynecology, 538; Hammond, W. A., a treatise on the diseases of the nervous system, 563; Hare, H. A., epilepsy, its pathology and treatment, 339; Harvard College, annual reports of the president and treasurer, 193; Illinois State Board of Health and medical education, 242; Keen, W. W., operation blank, 514; King, A. F. A., a manual of obstetrics, 69; Kirmisson, leçons cliniques sur les maladies de l'appareil locomoteur, 437; Lutaud, etude sur la rage et la méthode, Pasteur, 339; Martin, E., Saunders' question compends, No. 2, essentials of surgery, together with a full description of the handkerchief and roller bandages, 514; Massachusetts General Hospital and McLean Asylum for the Insane, report for 1890, 294; Massachusetts vital statistics for the year 1889, 195; Massachusetts report on water-supplies, 516; Mitchell, C. P., the philosophy of tumor-disease, a research for principles of its treatment, 16; Morris, H., a compend of gynæcology, 514; Murrell, W., massotherapeutics, or massage as a mode of treatment, 514; navy, report of the chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery to the secretary of the navy, 18; New York, annual report of the State Board of Charities, 219; New York City, annual report of the Board of Health, 320; New York State Board of Health, report, 172; Pasteur Institute, New York, first annual report, 321; Post, S. E., massage, a primer for nurses, 269; Reese, J. J., a text-book of medical jurisprudence and toxicology, 538; Roké, G. H., text-book of hygiene, 269; Smith, J. L., a treatise on the diseases of infancy and childhood, 563; Snow, H., the proclivity of women to cancerous diseases, 537; Starr, M. A., familiar forms of nervous disease, 340; Steavenson, W. E., the use of electrolysis in surgery, 437; United States marine-hospital service, annual report, 244.
Bielschowsky. Trophic changes in the nails in multiple neuritis, 175.
Bile. Biliary lithiasis, 468.
Billings, J. S. American inventions and discoveries in medicine, surgery and practical sanitation, 349; ideals of medical education, 619.
Binet. Powers of perception of children, 494.
Biography. Alsop, J. W., 646; Baillarger, J. G. F., 152; Balfour, T. G., 152; Bancroft, J. P., 474; Barker, F., 569, 593; Bartlett, T. H., 546; Bathgate, J., 372; Becquerel, A. E., 522; Bellamy, E., 104; Bigelow, H. J., 190, 271, 294; Blodig, K., 372; Bolling, W. H., 498; Borelli, G., 152; Bothwell, G. W., 470; Bruce, G. D., 570; Burwell, G. N., 522; Butcher, R. G. H., 372; Chase, S. L., 224; Chessmore, H., 128; Coccius, E. A., 24; Coles, A., 498; Cowdrey, S. G., 248; Corley, A. H., 24; Corbin, E. L., 152; Cummings, J. R., 176; Cutter, G. R., 197; Davis, J., 52; Dexter, R., 396; Doe, O. W., 52, 189; Dow, W. W., 498; Dubois, C., 76; Duvall, M., 224; Eldridge, J. H., 224; Eliot, G., 570; Etlinger, W. von, 52; Fenner, A. G., 275; Fox, L. S., 646; Garrish, J. P., 372; Gary, T. P., 618; Gay, H. S., 372; Gedicke, H. W., 275; Gibson, R. P., 24; Gill, H. S., 152; Goltdammer, E., 498; Goodbrake, C., 324; Gordon, D. H., 396; Gori, M. W. C., 76; Grimshaw, A. H., 522; Graves, L. J., 224; Gulliver, G., 128; Gundry, R., 474; Gutierrez, N., 200; Halsey, G. L., 221; Hartnack, E., 248; Harvey, J., 24; Harwood, E. C., 104; Hewett, P. G., 646; Holt, A. F., 22, 189, 248; Hosmer, A., 592; Hosmer, H., 522, 545; Jendrassik, E., 372; Jenssen, J., 522; Johnson, H. A., 284; Jones, S. P., 324; King, G. A., 522; King, H. C., 224; Knight, H., 348; Kretzchmar, P. H., 474; Lane, J. R., 646; Leidy, P., 474; Livermore, A. C., 300; Logan, J.

P., 594; Lovering, J. D., 324; Mackie, J. H., 276; Markham, W. O., 176; Marshall, J., 104; Martin, H. M., 152; Martin, R., 618; May, J. F., 474; Maynard, E., 498; McClure, W. J., 152; Mead, J. A., 224; Messersmith, J. S., 200; Middlemore, R., 324; Milhau, J. J., 498; Miller, J. D., 152; Moore, G. E., 420; Nassau, W. W., 546; Obersteiner, H., 224; Parkes, C. T., 372; Parrish, J., 104; Parsons, R. A., 396, 476; Perry, G. B., 76; Phillips, D., 570; Pratt, A., 646; Quincke, H., 275; Rector, P., 128; Reed, T. B., 372; Reyher, K., 200; Richardson, B. F., 52; Richardson, H., 646; Salzer, F., 24; Sheldon, P., 420; Sprague, W. B., 324; Spring, C. E., 189; Stanton, J. O., 396; Stevens, W. H., 246; Sticker, W., 324; Strange, W., 152; Streeter, J. H., 570; Strong, C. S., 176; Sullivan, T., 275; Talcott, A., 104; Temple, T., 24, 52; Thacher, James, 571, 595; Thacher, J. K., 420; Thomas, H. O., 74, 103; Tyler, W., 444; Ward, J. H., 474; Waring, E. J., 176; Warren, J. H., 348; Weed, F. J., 372; Wheeler, F. N., 618; White, J. W., 570; Whitney, W. J., 300; Wieger, F., 128; Wiggin, C., 248; Williams, A. P., 420; Witter, J., 522.

Birdsall, W. R. Therapeutic experiments with nitrogen monoxide, 117; a case of spastic paraplegia, compensatory gait, 410.

Blake, C. J. Boston hospitals, 225.

Blood. The germicidal properties of blood, Fodor, von, 298.

Blood-letting. The use and the neglect of blood-letting, 389.

Bohemia. The Bohemian watering places, Cushing, E. W., 402.

Bone transplantation at the Charity Hospital, 220.

Bowen, J. T. Progress in dermatology, 232.

Bradford, E. H. Hugh Owen Thomas, 103; two cases of spina bifida, 352, 361; pistol-shot wounds of the skull, 576, 580.

Brain. Pistol-shot wounds of the skull, Bradford, E. H., 576, 580; tumor of the brain, Putnam, 607.

Bresslauer. Dangers of sulphonal, 590.

Brewster, J. B. James Thacher, M.D., of Plymouth, Mass., 571, 595.

Briggs, W. T. Address before American Medical Association, 465.

Brinton, W. Purpura hæmorrhagica rheumatica, 585.

Broughton, H. W. Some noteworthy clinical features in cases of malignant disease, with remarks, 449, 461.

Browne, L. Impaction of artificial teeth in the larynx, 298.

Brush, E. F. Sterilized milk, 365.

Bullard, W. N. Provision for the care of adult pauper epileptics in Massachusetts, 25, 36.

Bullard, W. N., and Bradford, E. H. Cerebellar tumor, operation, hæmorrhage from defect of occipital bone, death, general remarks, 421, 435.

Bundy, F. E. Two cases of diphtheria, 311, 313.

Burr, C. R. Counter-irritation, 432.

Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Recent progress in surgery, 357, 383, 407, 506.

Cabinet. A medical cabinet officer, 510.

Cabot, A. T. A case of relapsing appendicitis in which the appendix was removed in an interval between the attacks, with recovery, 57, 68; cuneiform osteotomy for anchylosis of the jaw, 458.

Cancer. The parasitic origin of cancer, Warren, J. C., 53, 66.

Catarrh. The treatment of the catarrhal affections of spring time, 341.

Cathell, D. W. Alopecia universalis, 586.

Cetrarin, Kobert, 150.

Chadbourne, A. P. The Koch treatment in Munich, 323.

Charleston, S. C. Some of the sanitary features of Charleston, S. C., especially its artesian wells and its tidal drains, Bell, A. N., and Barbot, L. J., 15.

Cheney, F. E. Some practical points in the differential diagnosis of iritis and conjunctivitis, 554.

Cheever, D. W. Is the study of medicine a liberal education? 373; a case of compound dislocation of the hip, 523, 531.

Children. Tuberculosis in children, primary infection in the bronchial lymph nodes, Northup, W. P., 143; powers of perception of children, Binet, 494; recent progress in the diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 628.

Chlapowski. An aid to palpation, 519.

Chloral as a coagulant, See, M., 346.

Chlorosis and its treatment, Schultz, F., 174.

Chorea. Antipyrin and exalgin in chorea, Legroux, C., 274.

Circulatory System. Recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 58; suspected aneurism of the aorta, Knight, F. I., 65, 89; two cases of pelvic hæmatocele, Homans, J., 110; a case of aneurism of each carotid, one involving the innominate, Temple, W. F., 136, 138; a case of acute endocarditis, Taylor, F. W., 159; chlorosis and its treatment, Schultz, F., 174; the cure of aneurism, Macewen, W., 222; tricuspid stenosis, with the report of a case and specimen, 307, 315; cardiac remedies, 321; a case of cardiac dropsy, Morrill, F. G., 387; the use and the neglect of blood-letting, 389; tracheal tugging, MacDonnell, 519; the extremes of temperature borne by the leucocytes of human blood, Maurel, 543; a case of syphilitic endocarditis with remarks, Greene, E. M., 626.

Clark, A. The barking cough of puberty, 127.

Cocaine habit, Falk, 520.

Cocoa-nut oil as an anthelmintic, Parisi, 150.

Coe, H. C. Cœliotomy for rupture of the uterus during labor, 578.

Conant, W. M. Cysts of the labium, 549, 558.

Constipation. Chronic constipation, Flatau, 21.

Contagiousness of scarlet fever, diphtheria and some other common diseases, 243.

Contract Surgeons. The relations of contract surgeons to the general profession, 488.

Corrosion preparations, Dwight, T., 475.

Corrosive sublimate as a disinfectant, Abbot, A. C., 591.

Cough: its uses, significance and indications, Leaming, J. R., 268.

Counter-irritation, Burr, C. R., 432.

Cow-pox. Identity of small-pox and cow-pox, Eternod and Haxiers, 591.

Cushing, E. W. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy, operation at the ninth month, recovery, 30, 42; an extra-uterine fœtus and placenta removed at the ninth month by abdominal section, 137; improved apparatus for sterilizing surgical instruments and dressings, 161; two cases of laparotomy for pelvic abscess, with perforation of the intestine and continuous purulent discharges, 211, 216; the Bohemian watering places, 402; vaginal hysterectomy for cancer, 547, 557.

Cushing, H. W. Method of clamping the intestine during operations involving this viscus, 461.

Cutaneous System. Notes on skin-grafting, with report of a case operated by Thiersch's method, Thorndike, P., 157, 163; trophic changes in the nails in multiple neuritis, Bielschowsky, 175; lichen rubra treated by Koch's method, Morison, 192; progress in dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 232; alopecia universalis, Cathell, D. W., 586.

Cysticercus. Multiple cysticerci or cesto-tuberculosis, Osler, 192.

Cystoscopy. The progress of cystoscopy in the last three years, Meyer, W., 186.

DaCosta. Professional aspirations, 472.

Dana, C. L. The degenerative diseases of the spinal cord, with a description of a new type, 315.

Dane, J. An apparatus for the correction of talipes equino varus, 260, 297.

Dauz. Transmission of tuberculosis by milk, 273.

Davenport, F. H. Report of progress in gynecology, 334; some forms of amenorrhœa and their treatment, 380.

Delafield, F. Lobar pneumonia with the formation of new connective tissue, 240.

Derby, H. A case of double optic neuritis accompanied by considerable amblyopia, possibly caused by arsenical poisoning, 603, 606.

Diabetes. A case of slough of the lip in a diabetic patient, Sturgis, R., 261.

Digestive System. Further observations on permanent tubage of the œsophagus, Mixter, S. J., 5, 11; a stomach, œsophagus and duodenum showing the caustic effects of a fatal dose of carbolic acid, Draper, F. W., 11; chronic constipation, Flatau, 21; case of extraordinary accumulation of fæces, Abbot, S. L., 109; œsophageal obstruction due to a piece of lettuce, Abbot, S. L., 114; brief notes on gastrotomy, with report of a successful case, Powers, C. A., 168; the treatment of dysentery by the administration of a saturated solution of Epsom salts, 48; a case of relapsing appendicitis in which the appendix was removed in an interval between the attacks, with recovery, Cabot, A. T., 57, 68; a case of extensive resection of the stomach, 269; the influence of tobacco on the process of digestion, Ydan-Pouchkine, 298; the operative treatment of rectal cancer, with especial reference to Kraske's sacral method, 453, 461; method of high rectal inspection, Otis, W. J., 461; method of clamping the intestine during operations involving this viscus, Cushing, H. W., 461; foreign bodies in the œsophagus, Polikier, 466; a form of gingivitis common to men and dogs in India, Roberts, J. R., 471; stricture of the rectum, its etiology, pathology, symptomology, diagnosis and treatment, Mathews, J. H., 489; the red-rose petals as a remedy for diarrhœa, Alexeevsky, 494; appendicitis, a year's experience in private practice, Elliot, J. W., 499; the use of the elastic ligature in the surgery of the rectum, McGraw, T. A., 510; recurrent appendicitis with adhesive bands about the head of the colon, operation followed by cure, Marcy, H. O., 524; cancer of the rectum, McArthur, L. L., 561; insomnia of gastro-intestinal origin, 640.

Diphtheria. Toxalbumin and immunity from diphtheria, Fraenkel, 49; contagiousness of scarlet fever, diphtheria and some other common diseases, 243; two cases of diphtheria, Bundy, F. E., 311, 313; experimental therapeutics of diphtheria, 319; the conditions of the propagation of diphtheria, 367.

Dislocation. A case of compound dislocation of the hip, Cheever, D. W., 523, 531.

Dispensary abuse, Thompson, J. M., 199.

Diuretin. Alterability of diuretin, Lambert, 20.

Draper, F. W. A stomach, œsophagus and duodeum, showing the caustic effects of a fatal dose of carbolic acid, 11; a case of tubal pregnancy with rupture and fatal hæmorrhage at an early stage, 28, 41; recent progress in legal medicine, 112.

Dropsy. A case of cardiac dropsy, Morrill, F. G., 387.

Drunkards. A State institution for drunkards, 122.

Dujardin-Beaumetz. On the treatment of tuberculosis by Koch's method, 1.

Dunn, W. A. Report of 1,168 cases of labor in private practice, 451, 462.

Durkee, W. C. An improved form of hypodermic syringe, 43.

Dwight, T. The first administration of ether, 50; methods of teaching anatomy at the Harvard Medical School, especially corrosive preparations, 475; recent progress in anatomy, 554.

Dysentery. The treatment of dysentery by the administration of a saturated solution of Epsom salts, 48.

Ear. Some points on the pathogenesis of aural vertigo, Pomeroy, O. D., 213; bony anchylosis of the malleus and incus, 11; operations for correcting the deformity due to prominent ears, Monks, G. H., 84, 94; chondroma of the ear, Green, J. O., 289; a case of abscess and softening of the brain with chronic disease of the tympanum, Green, J. O., 503, 513; injury to the ear from a piece of wood, Jack, F. L., 508, 513.

Editorials. The eighteenth annual report of the Local Government Board of England, 1888, 1889, 17; report of the chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery to the secretary of the navy, 18; a knotty question of ethics, 18; variability and varieties of the typhoid bacillus, 47; the treatment of dysentery by the administration of a saturated solution of Epsom salts, 48; the epidemic of Kochism and the newspaper reporter, 70; immunity and blood serum, 71; the nature of Koch's parataloid, 99; new researches on variola vaccine, 100; the Sears laboratories of the Harvard Medical School, 121; another antivaccination tirade, 121; a State institution for drunkards, 122; third report of the royal commission on vaccination, 145; vital statistics of the Jews, 146; annual report of the New York State Commission in Lunacy, 147; parotiditis from pneumococci, 147; tests for free hydrochloric acid, 170; on the treatment of lupus by Koch's method, 171; annual report of the New York State Board of Health, 172; the status of hygiene in Germany, 172; annual reports of the president and treasurer of Harvard College, 193; camphoric acid and tellurate of soda in night sweats, two new anidrotic medicaments, 194; the vital statistics of Massachusetts for the year 1889, 195; legislation concerning arsenic, 217; the rôle of the liver in the production of urea, 218; annual report of the New York State Board of Charities, 219; bone transplantation at the Charity Hospital, 220; the Illinois State Board of Health and medical education, 242; the contagiousness of scarlet fever, diphtheria and some other common diseases, 243; annual report of the marine-hospital service, 244; a case of extensive resection of the stomach, 269; Columbia College and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the city of New York, 270; the therapeutic value of Koch's remedy in lupus vulgaris, 270; effects of tuberculin on tuberculous guinea pigs, 271; comparison of the ocular troubles in locomotor ataxia, multiple sclerosis and hysteria, 293; report of the Massachusetts General Hospital and McLean Asylum for the Insane, 1890, 294; Koch's treatment of tuberculosis, official Prussian report, 318; experimental therapeutics of diphtheria, 319; the annual report of the Board of Health of the city of New York, 320; Koch's remedy in genito-urinary tuberculosis, 341; treatment of the catarrhal affections of spring time, 341; a bill providing for the registration of physicians in Massachusetts, 343; annual report of the Boston Board of Health, 366; tuberculosis in meat, 366; the conditions of the propagation of diphtheria, 367; the use and neglect of blood-letting, 389; arsenic in the Massachusetts legislature, 390; are anatomy and physiology liberal studies? 414; medical men and the secular press, 414; the seat of cutaneous sensations, 415; the fifth French congress of surgery, 438; annual report of the Boston City Hospital, 439; the recent death-rate of New York, 439; reports on treatment with tuberculin, 467; biliary lithiasis, 468; the nineteenth annual report of the Local Government Board of England, supplement for 1889, 491; further experience with tuberculin in the New York hospitals, 492; English registration, 515; the necessity for immediate surgical intervention in lacerations of the perineum, 516; the Massachusetts report on water-supplies, 516; a four years' course at the Harvard Medical School, 539; physiological albuminuria, 539; the study of statistics, 563; State regulation of the practice of medicine in Pennsylvania, 565; the Boston Lying-in Hospital, 587; pulmonary syphilis in the adult, 588; etiology and treatment of chronic alcoholism, 612; a college course for students of medicine, 614; insomnia of gastro-intestinal origin, 640.

Education. Is the study of medicine a liberal education? Cheever, D. W., 373; are anatomy and physiology liberal studies? 414; a four years' course at the Harvard Medical School, 539; higher medical education, 543; new scholarships at the Harvard Medical School, 567; a college course for students of medicine, 614; ideals of medical education, Billings, J. S., 619.

Ehrlich's test, 418.

Eigenbrodt. The contagion of whooping-cough, 346.

Elbow. Excisions at the elbow, ultimate results at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Mass, Scudder, C. L., 375.

Electricity. Demonstration of modus operandi of the treatment of urethral strictures by electrolysis, Newman, R., 12; electro-cautery in surgery, with special reference to its use in the nose, throat and mouth, Goodwillie, D. H., 170.

Elliot, J. W. Specimen of an appendix, 363; nephrectomy for pyonephrosis, 457, 458; appendicitis, a year's experience in private practice, 499.

Emergency Hospital. The necessity of an Emergency Hospital in the business district of Boston, Galvin, G. W., 134, 138.

Engelman, G. J. The health of the American girl, 568.

Epilepsy. Provision for the cure of adult pauper epileptics in Massachusetts, Bullard, W. N., 25, 36.

Ernst, H. C. Koch's treatment of tuberculosis, 22, 77; records for cases of tuberculosis treated with Koch's parataloid, 75; Koch's treatment of tuberculosis, 105.

Eternod and Haxiers. Identity of small-pox and cow-pox, 591.

Ether. The first administration of ether, Jewett, G., 23; Dwight, T., 50; Townsend, G. J., 75.

Ethics. A knotty question of ethics, 18.

Evans, A. T. Precocious maternity, 20.

Extra-uterine fœtation. A case of tubal pregnancy, with rupture and fatal hæmorrhage at an early stage, Draper, F. W., 28, 41; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, operation at the ninth month, recovery, Cushing, E. W., 30, 42; an extra-uterine fœtus and placenta, removed at the ninth month by abdominal section, Cushing, E. W., 137; unsuspected ectopic gestation, Formad, H. F., 537; tubal pregnancy with two ova in the same Fallopian tube, Fenger, C., 559; laparotomy for extra-uterine pregnancy two months after death of fœtus at term, Parkes, C. T., 560; ruptured tubal pregnancy, Ashby, T. A., 586.

Eye. The causes of asthenopia, Roosa, D. B. St. J., 189; one thousand cases of ocular headache, and the different states of refraction connected therewith, Mittendorf, W. F., 213; comparison of the ocular troubles in locomotor ataxia, multiple sclerosis and hysteria, 293; some practical points in the differential diagnosis of iritis and conjunctivitis, Cheney, F. E., 554; a case of double optic neuritis accompanied by considerable amblyopia, possibly caused by arsenical poisoning, Derby, H., 603, 606.

Eyraud-Bompard trial, 73.

Falk. The cocaine habit, 520.

Fenger, C. Tubal pregnancy with two ova in the same Fallopian tube, 559.

Fergusson, W. Tuberculine, 321.

Fessler. Silk ribbons for drainage, 126.

Finlay and Delgado. Inoculation by mosquitoes against yellow fever, 273.

Flatau. Chronic constipation, 21.

Flood, H. Injuries to the knee-joint, 169.

Fodor, von. The germicidal properties of blood, 298.

Folsom, C. F. General peripheral neuritis, 291.

Food. Sterilized milk, Brush, E. F., 365.

Formad, H. F. Unsuspected ectopic gestation, 537.

Forster, E. J. The study of mushrooms, 50; hypertrophy of anterior lip of cervix as a possible bar to pregnancy, 336.

Foster, A. H. A case of hemicephalus with hydramnion, 560.

Fracture. The non-operative treatment of delayed union in fracture of the leg, Ridlon, J., 411.

Frænkel. Toxalbumin and immunity from diphtheria, 49; Frænkel's opinion of Koch's method, 297.

Freire, D. Immunity from yellow fever, 370.

Gage, H. Suprapubic cystotomy for the removal of foreign bodies, with report of a successful case, 132.

Gall-stones. The treatment of gall-stones, Seymour, W. W., 241.

Galvin, G. W. The necessity of an Emergency Hospital in the business district of Boston, 134.

Gastrotomy. Brief notes on gastrotomy, with report of a successful case, Powers, C. A., 168.

Gay, G. W. The progress of some litigation cases after settlement, 484.

Generative System. Gynecological cases at the Carney Hospital, Johnson, F. W., 33; two cases of pelvic hæmatocele, Homans, J., 110, 115; an extra-uterine fœtus and placenta, removed at the ninth month by abdominal section, Cushing, E. W., 137; three cases of tumor of the uterus, Homans, J., 181; a plea for rapid dilatation, Holt's operation in the treatment of urethral strictures, Sturgis, F. R., 187; pelvic inflammation in women, 215; treatment of pelvic inflammation in women, McMurtry, L. S., 239; the treatment of injuries to the floor of the vagina, Hanks, H. T., 239; the treatment of fibroid tumors of the uterus after the method of Dr. Apostoli, Homans, J., 249, 261; five cases from Dr. Apostoli's clinic in Paris, Van Pelt, G. W., 283; a report of six months' work in the out-patient department for diseases of women at the Boston City Hospital, Green, C. M., and Haven, G., 329, 336; report of progress in gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 334; fibro-sarcoma of both ovaries, cœliotomy, recovery, Baker, W. H., 335; hypertrophy of anterior lip of cervix as a possible bar to pregnancy, Forster, E. J., 336; Koch's remedy in genito-urinary tuberculosis, 341; some forms of amenorrhœa and their treatment, Davenport, F. H., 380; amenorrhœa, clinical report of four cases successfully treated by galvanism, Strong, C. P., 382, 388; the "virile reflex," 393; the transplantation and growth of mammalian ova within a uterine foster-mother, Heape, W., 394; prostatomy in a patient of forty-two, Post, A., 405; some observations on anteflexion of the uterus, Swift, J. B., 504, 512; the treatment of acute urethritis, Allen, G. W., 525, 532; conservatism in dealing with the appendages, Polk, W. M., 536; pathology and treatment of chronic ovaritis, Skene, A. J. C., 536, 597; vaginal hysterectomy for cancer, Cushing, E. W., 547, 557; cysts of the labium, Conant, W. M., 549, 558; polypoid myoma, Parkes, C. T., 559; pregnant uterus with fibroid tumor, Parkes, C. T., 559; the results of the removal of the uterine appendages, Keppler, 616.

Gerloczy. Disinfection of privies, 274.

Germany. The status of hygiene in Germany, 172.

Gibier, P. First annual report of the New York Pasteur Institute, 321.

Gingivitis. A form of gingivitis common to men and dogs in India, Roberts, J. R., 471.

Girl. The health of the American girl, Engelman, G. J., 568.

Goldthwait, J. E. Some practical hints on the use of plaster-of-Paris bandages, 406.

Goodwillie, D. H. Electro-cautery in surgery, with special reference to its use in the nose, throat and mouth, 170.

Grandmont, G. de. Ichthyol and its preparations, 298.

Granger, W. D. A study of the relation of intercurrent acute diseases and serious injuries to recovery in two thousand cases of insanity, 118.

Graves' Disease. Operation for Graves' disease, 197.

Gray, L. C. Tumor of the centrum ovale, 187.

Green, C. M. Recent progress in obstetrics, 87.

Green, C. M., and Haven, G. A report of six months' work in the out-patient department for diseases of women at the Boston City Hospital, 329, 336.

Greene, E. M. A case of syphilitic endocarditis with remarks, 626.

Green, J. O. Bony anchylosis of the malleus and incus, 11; chondroma of the ear, 289; a case of abscess and softening of the brain with chronic disease of the tympanum, 503, 513.

Greenwood, A. Some notes on the present epidemic of influenza, 434.

Grief. Pathology of grief, 418.

Gultmann. Salipyrin, 150.

Gun-shot Wounds. Conservative surgery applied to a case of gun-shot wounds where four large pistol balls entered the body and only one ball was removed, Nelson, S. N., 526, 532; pistol-shot wounds of the skull, Bradford, E. H., 576, 580.

Gynecology. Report of progress in gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 334.

Haller, J. F. Regulation of the practice of medicine in Rhode Island, 301.

Hanks, H. T. Treatment of injuries to the floor of the vagina, 239.

Harrington, F. B. Rheumatic flat-foot, 354, 361.

Harvard College. Annual reports of the president and treasurer of Harvard College, 193; a four years' course at the Harvard Medical School, 539; new scholarships at the Harvard Medical School, 567.

Hazen, A., and White, F. W. On an application of agar-plate cultures to water analysis, with special reference to the detection of the bacillus of typhoid fever, 407.

Heape, W. The transplantation and growth of mammalian ova within a uterine foster-mother, 394.

Heider, A. Effect of high temperature on disinfectants, 346.

Herrick, C. B. Railroad surgery, 169.

Herter, C. A. Clinical and pathological observations on injuries of the cervical spinal cord, 410.

Hip. A case of compound dislocation of the hip, Cheever, D. W., 523, 531.

Holmes, W. H. Case of acute local œdema complicated with purpura and salivation, 481.

Homans, J. Two cases of laparotomy for intra-abdominal hæmorrhage, 27; three cases of tumor of the uterus, 181; two cases of pelvic hæmatocele, 110, 115; the treatment of fibroid tumors of the uterus after the method of Dr. Apostoli, 249, 261.

Homans, J., and Walton, G. L. A case of successful trephining for subdural hæmorrhage produced by contre-coup, 153, 163.

Home treatment, 247.

Hooper, F. H. A pin in the larynx, 114; trans-illumination of the air-cavities of the head and of the larynx, 191.

Horlbeck, H. B. Maritime sanitation at ports of arrival, 15.

Hospitals. The necessity of an Emergency Hospital in the business district of Boston, Galvin, G. W., 134, 138; Boston hospitals, Blake, C. J., 225.

Huchard. Treatment of the night-sweats of phthisis, 471.

Hughes, C. H. The "virile reflex," 393.

Hun, H. Two cases of traumatic hysteria, 188; the pathology of Landry's paralysis, 485.

Hydrochloric Acid. Tests for free hydrochloric acid, 170.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. Treatment of sewage by precipitation and stagnation, Raymond, 15; sanitary improvement of lakes near the sea-shore, Raymond, 15; some of the sanitary features of Charleston, S. C., especially its artesian wells and its tidal drains, Bell, A. N., 15; the vaccinal protection of passengers from Cuba, Montizambert, F., 15; maritime sanitation at ports of arrival, Horlbeck, H. B., 15; eighteenth annual report of the Local Government Board of England, 1888, 1889, 17; recent progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 287, 309; annual report of the Boston Board of Health, 366.
Hypnotism. The Eyraud-Bompard trial, 73; hypnotism, 216; the outcome of personal experience in the application of hypnotism and hypnotic suggestion, Osgood, H., 277, 289, 303; stuporose insanity following hypnotism, Nolan, 345; hypnotism, Williams, H., 355.
Ichthyol and its preparations, Grandmont, G. de, 298.
Illinois State Board of Health and medical education, 242.
Immigrants. Medical inspection of immigrants, 371.
Immunity and blood-serum, 71.
Influenza in the German army, 321; some notes on the present epidemic of influenza, Greenwood, A., 434; influenza in Edinburgh in the olden time, 473; an epidemic of influenza, Webber, S. G., 480.
International Congress. Seventh International Congress of Hygiene and Demography, 272.
Insomnia of gastro-intestinal origin, 640.
Instruments and Apparatus. An improved form of hypodermic syringe, Durkee, W. C., 43; an appliance to facilitate the insertion of the soft-rubber (Nelaton's) stomach-tube, Liebmann, G., 235; a cheap hip-splint, Lovett, R. W., 259; an apparatus for the correction of talipes equino varus, Dane, J., 260, 297; Arnold sterilizer, Stone, A. K., 363; silk ribbons for drainage, 126; sterilization of rubber catheters, 126; improved apparatus for sterilizing surgical instruments and dressings, Cushing, E. W., 161; electro-cautery in surgery, with special reference to its use in the nose, throat and mouth, Goodwillie, D. H., 170; trans-illumination of the air-cavities of the head and of the larynx, Hooper, F. H., 191; some practical hints on the use of plaster-of-Paris bandages, Goldthwait, J. E., 406.
Inventions. American inventions and discoveries in medicine, surgery and practical sanitation, Billings, J. S., 349.
Irish, J. C. Primary cancer of the kidney, 362.
Jack, F. L. Injury to the ear from a piece of wood, 508, 513.
Jacobi, A., Heineman, H. N., and Bailey, W. C. Koch's remedy, 241.
Jacoby, G. W. A contribution to the diagnosis of Raynaud's disease, 118.
Jackson, H. Publication of the results by Koch's method, 223; albuminuria, etiology and prognosis, 477, 482.
Jaw. Cuneiform osteotomy for anchylosis of the jaw, Cabot, A. T., 458.
Jeffries, J. A. A note on extracts from tubercle cultures, 185.
Jewett, G. The first administration of ether, 23.
Jews. Vital statistics of the Jews, 146.
Johns Hopkins Hospital. Koch's new treatment at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, 98.
Johnson, F. W. Gynecological cases at the Carney Hospital, 33; rabies, 313.
Jones, C. M., and Jeffries, J. A. Report on seven cases of tuberculosis treated by parataloid, 445.
Kelliher, M. W. A five-inch hair-pin in the right posterior nares, 579.
Kelly, H. A case of Cæsarian section, 192.
Keppler. The results of the removal of the uterine appendages, 616.
Klanovsky. The influence of gastric juice on micro-organisms, 567.
Kirchner, M. Disinfection of tuberculous sputum, 222.
Knapp, P. C. Recent progress in diseases of the nervous system, 8, 31; an hereditary type of motor tabes, 409.
Knee. Injuries to the knee-joint, Flood, H., 169.
Knight, F. I. Suspected aneurism of the aorta, 65, 89.
Kobert. Cetrarin, 150.
Koch. The treatment of tuberculosis by Koch's method, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 1; treatment of surgical tuberculosis by Koch's method, 22; Koch's treatment of tuberculosis, Ernst, H. C., 22, 77, 105; Koch's remedy in Boston, Beach, H. H. A., 42; directions for using Koch's remedy for tuberculosis, 44; views and results from various sources, 45; tuberculosis in children, some phenomena attending initial injections with Koch's fluid, Achorn, J. W., 64; the epidemic of Kochism and the newspaper reporter, 70; records for cases of tuberculosis treated with Koch's parataloid, Ernst, H. C., 74; a secret remedy, 74; the composition of Professor Koch's fluid, 95; Virchow on the effects of Koch's method, 97; Koch's new treatment at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, 98; opinions on the recipe for making the lymph, 98; the nature of Koch's parataloid, 99; combination of operative treatment with Koch's remedy in phthisis, 150; on the treatment of lupus by Koch's method, 171; lichen rubra treated by Koch's method, Morison, 192; the dissemination of tubercle under Koch's treatment, Liebmann, V., 197; Koch's remedy, Jacoby, A., Heineman, H. N., and Bailey, W. C., 241; shall tuberculin be promiscuously used? Stone, A. K., 247; the therapeutic value of Koch's remedy in lupus vulgaris, 270; effects of tuberculin on tuberculous guinea-pigs, 271; Frænkel's opinion of Koch's method, 297; Koch's treatment of tuberculosis, official Prussian report, 318; official regulations as to tuberculin in Italy, 321; the Koch treatment in Munich, Chadbourne, A. P., 323; Koch's remedy in genito-urinary tuberculosis, 341; bacilli in tuberculin, 345; an alkaloid derived from tubercle bacilli, Zuelzer, 394; an open letter to Prof. Robert Koch of Berlin, Tyndale, J. H., 616.
Koritschoner. The action of prussic acid in tuberculosis of the lung, 394.
Kotliar, E. T. Effects of orexin on assimilation, 222.
Kums. Subcutaneous injections of ether in hepatic colic, 126.
Laborde. Vital phenomena after decapitation, 590.
La Fleur. Of hepatic abscess, 193.
Lambert. Alterability of diuretin, 20.
Landry. The pathology of Landry's paralysis, Hun, B., 485.
Laparotomy. Two cases of laparotomy for intra-abdominal hæmorrhage, Homans, J., 27; to control hæmorrhage after laparotomy, Walcher, 102; five cases of laparotomy for pelvic abscess, Warren, J. C., 183; two cases of laparotomy for pelvic abscess, with perforation of the intestine and continuous discharges, Cushing, E. W., 211, 216; painless laparotomy without anæsthesia by inhalation, 496.
Lathrop, W. H. A case of spina bifida, 114.
Leaming, J. R. Cough: its uses, significance and indications, 268.
Legal Medicine. Recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 112; a stomach, œsophagus and duodenum showing the caustic effects of a fatal dose of carbolic acid, Draper, F. W., 11; arsenic in the Massachusetts legislature, 390; legislation on arsenic in Massachusetts, 392; the progress of some litigation cases after settlement, Gay, G. W., 484; a surgico-legal case, Stickney, C. W., 207.
Legroux, C. Antipyrin and exalgin in chorea, 274.
Leszynsky, W. M. The use of atropia in treatment of localized muscular spasm, 315.
Leukæmia, Toulmin, 338.
Leucke. Operation for Graves's disease, 197.
Levy. The treatment of surgical tuberculosis by Koch's method, 22.
Liebmann, G. An appliance to facilitate the insertion of the soft-rubber (Nelaton's) stomach-tube, 235.
Liebmann, V. The dissemination of tubercle under Koch's treatment, 197.
Liebreich. Professor Liebreich's remedy for tuberculosis, 273.
Ligature. The use of the elastic ligature in the surgery of the intestines, McGraw, T. A., 510.
Lightning. Case of a man struck by lightning, recovery, Palmer, L. M., 234.
Lister, J. Sir Joseph Lister on the spray, 150
Liver. A case of suppurating unilocular hydatid cyst of the liver, with multiple hepatic abscess, Shattuck, F. C., 3, 10; of hepatic abscess, 193; the role of the liver in the production of urea, 218.
Lovett, R. W. The etiology of lateral curvature of the spine, 6; a cheap hip-splint, 259; spontaneous cure of a spina-bifida, 361.
Lowell. An epidemic of typhoid fever in Lowell, Mass., Sedgwick, W. T., 397, 426.
Lucas, R. C. A case of nephrolithotomy (following nephrectomy) for total suppression of the urine lasting five days, recovery, 63.
Lupus. On the treatment of lupus by Koch's method, 171; the therapeutic value of Koch's remedy in lupus vulgaris, 270.
Lying-in Hospital, the Boston, 587.
MacDonnell. Tracheal tugging, 519.
Macewen, W. The cure of aneurism, 222.
Mackenzie, J. N. Nasal obstruction, 519.
Madras vaccine paste, 346.
Malignant Disease. Some noteworthy clinical features in cases of malignant disease, with remarks, Broughton, H. W., 449, 461.
Marcy, H. O. Recurrent appendicitis with adhesive bands about the head of the colon, operation followed by cure, 524.
Marine-Hospital Service. Annual report of the marine-hospital service, 244.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Alterability of diuretin, Lambert, 20; toxalbumin and immunity from diphtheria, Frænkel, 49; to be remembered, Whelpley, H. M., 102; therapeutic experiments with nitrogen monoxide, Birdsall, W. R., 117; injections of pyoktanin in cystitis, Nencki, L., 126; treatment of epilepsy by the combined usage of antipyrine and bromide of ammonia, Potts, C., 126; subcutaneous injections of ether in hepatic colic, Kums, 126; cocoa-nut oil as an anthelmintic, Parisi, 150; cetrarin, 150; salipyrin, Gultmann, 150; tests for free hydrochloric acid, 170; alpha and beta naphthol, 175; camphoric acid and tellurate of soda in night sweats, two new anidrotic medicaments, 194; resorcin in septic poisoning, Andeer, 197; report on therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 208; methyl violet in the treatment of malignant growths, Mosetig, von 246; the value of subcutaneous administration of gold and manganese in the treatment of tuberculosis, White, J. B., 266; sulphate of duboisine as a sedative and hypnotic agent, Ostermayer, 273; antipyrine and exalgin in chorea, Legroux, C., 274; ichthyol and its preparations, Grandmont, G. de, 298; the use of atropia in treatment of localized muscular spasm, Leszynsky, W. M., 315; experimental therapeutics of diphtheria, 319; cardiac remedies, Rummo and Ferranini, 321; chloral as a coagulant, Sée, M., 346; the action of prussic acid in tuberculosis of the lung, Koritschoner, 394; retinol, 394; styrone, Newell, O. K., 434; suggestive therapeutics, Sturgis, R., 442; the internal use of the simple astringents, Walker, M. A., 509; the treatment of phthisis by medicated air under pressure, Sée, G., 519; digitalis in pneumonia, Petresco, 520; the cocaine habit, Falk, 520; effects of quinine on the healing of wounds, Sokoloff, 544; the nutritive value of rectal injections of egg albumen, Voit, Bauer and Eichnorst, 568; corrosive sublimate as a disinfectant, Abbot, A. C., 591.
Mathews, J. H. Stricture of the rectum, its etiology, pathology, symptomatology, diagnosis and treatment, 489.
Maurel. The extremes of temperature borne by the leucocytes of human blood, 543.
Mays, T. J. The specific and non-specific treatment of pulmonary consumption, 551.
McArthur, L. L. Cancer of the rectum, 561.
McGraw, T. A. The use of the elastic ligature in the surgery of the intestines, 510.
McMurtry, L. S. Treatment of pelvic inflammation in women, 239.
Mecca. The pilgrimage to Mecca, 21.
Mediastinum. Operation for opening the posterior mediastinum, Quenu, 591.
Medical Education. The Sears laboratories of the Harvard Medical School, 121, 125; Columbia College and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the city of New York, 270; the Illinois State Board of Health and medical education, 242; is the study of medicine a liberal education? Cheever, D. W., 373; are anatomy and physiology liberal studies? 414; a four years' course at Harvard Medical School, 539; higher medical education, 543; new scholarships at the Harvard Medical School, 567; a college course for students of medicine, 614; ideals of medical education, Billings, J. S., 619.
Meyer, W. The progress of cystoscopy in the last three years, 186.
Microcidine, Berlioz, 591.
Milk. Sterilized milk, Brush, E. F., 365.
Mind. A study of the relation of intercurrent acute diseases and serious injuries to recovery in two thousand cases of insanity, Granger, W. D., 118; annual report of the New York State Commission in Lunacy, 147; changes in the blood and urine of the insane, Smith, J., 345; stuporose insanity following hypnotism, Nolan, 345; idiocy and the obstetric forceps, Winkler and Bollaan, 471; report on mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 527; can the gynecologist aid the alienist in institutions for the insane? Stone, J. S., 536.

Mittendorf, W. F. One thousand cases of ocular headache and the different states of refraction connected therewith, 213.

Mixter, S. J. Further observations on permanent tubage of the œsophagus, 5, 11; two cases of excision of the third division of the fifth pair of nerves at the foramen ovale for neuralgia, 115; a fatal case of perineal section for rupture of the urethra, 115.

Monks, G. H. Operations for correcting the deformity due to prominent ears, 84, 94; the remains of a broken lead-pencil (surrounded by phosphatic deposits), and the metal tip of the pencil removed from the bladder by perineal section, 182.

Montizambert, F. The vaccinal protection of passengers from Cuba, 15.

Moore, J. T. A case of penetrating wound of the abdomen and thorax, recovery, 259.

Morison. Lichen rubra treated by Koch's method, 192.

Morrill, F. G. A case of cardiac dropsy, 387.

Morton, T. G. Appendicitis and pericæcal inflammations, 511.

Mosetig, von. Methyl violet in the treatment of malignant growths, 246.

Mosetig and Stilling. The subcutaneous use of aniline dyes, 345.

Mueller. Strychnine in snake-bite, 495.

Mumford, J. G. Angioneurotic œdema, 235.

Mushrooms. The study of mushrooms, Forster, E. J., 50.

Naegeli. A simple means of jugulating cephalalgia and facial neuralgia, 125.

Nail-brushes. Sterilization of nail-brushes, Spielhagen, 471.

Nails. Trophic changes in the nails in multiple neuritis, Bielschowsky, 175.

Naphthol. Alpha and beta naphthol, 175.

Navy. Report of the chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery to the secretary of the navy, 18.

Nelson, S. N. Conservative surgery applied to a case of gun-shot wounds where four large pistol balls entered the body and only one ball was removed, 526, 532.

Nencki, L. Injections of pyoktanin in cystitis, 126; the effect of asparagus on the urine, 495.

Nervous System. Recent progress in diseases of the nervous system, Knapp, P. C., 8, 31; provision for the care of adult pauper epileptics in Massachusetts, Bullard, W. N., 25, 36; cerebral tumors, with clinical cases, Stedman, J., 79, 90; progressive paralysis, Pick, 102; a case of spina bifida, Lathrop, W. H., 114; two cases of excision of the third division of the fifth pair of nerves at the foramen ovale for neuralgia, Mixter, S. J., 115; a simple means of jugulating cephalalgia and facial neuralgia, Naegeli, 125; treatment of epilepsy by the combined usage of antipyrine and bromide of ammonia, Potts, C., 126; a case of successful trephining for subdural hæmorrhage produced by contre-coup, Homans, J., and Walton, G. L., 153, 163; early diagnosis of some serious diseases of the nervous system, its importance and feasibility, Seguin, E. C., 129, 177, 201; tumor of the centrum ovale, Gray, L. C., 187; two cases of traumatic neuralgia, Hun, H., 188; one thousand cases of ocular headache, and the different states of refraction connected therewith, Mittendorf, W. F., 213; some points on the pathogenesis of aural vertigo, Pomeroy, O. D., 213; pathology of hysterical joint disease, Prince, M., 260; the treatment of tetanus by injection, Baginsky, 274; antipyrin and exalgin in chorea, Legroux, C., 274; general peripheral neuritis, Folsom, C. F., 291; comparison of the ocular troubles in locomotor ataxia, multiple sclerosis and hysteria, 293; the degenerative diseases of the spinal cord, with a description of a new type, Dana, C. L., 315; cerebral syphilis, Thomas, H., 338; the virile reflex, 393; an hereditary type of motor tabes, Knapp, P. C., 409; a case of spastic paraplegia, compensatory gait, Birdsall, 410; clinical and pathological observations on injuries of the cervical spinal cord, Herter, C. A., 410; cerebellar tumor, operation, hæmorrhage from defect of occipital bone, death, general remarks, Bullard, W. N., and Bradford, E. H., 421, 435; simulated primary dementia, a medico-legal case, 430; counter-irritation, Burr, C. R., 432; the pathology of Landry's paralysis, Hun, H, 485; contributions to the pathology of infantile cerebral palsies, Sachs, B., 486; cadaver studies on the removal of the semilunar ganglion through the floor of the cranium, Andrews, E., 537; pistol-shot wounds of the skull, Bradford, E. H., 576, 580; tumor of the brain, Putnam, 607; cases of pain (on walking) in the sole of the foot, radiating out to certain toes, Putnam, J. J., 607.

Newell, O. K. Styrone, 435.

New Jersey. Repeal of charter of Medical and Surgical College of New Jersey, Watson, W. P., 299.

Newman, R. Demonstration of modus operandi in the treatment of urethral structures by electrolysis, 12.

New York. Death-rate of New York, 439.

Nichols, A. H. Simulated primary dementia, a medico-legal case, 430.

Night Sweats. Camphoric acid and tellurate of soda in night sweats, two new anidrotic medicaments, 194; treatment of night sweats of phthisis, Huchard, 471.

Nolan. Stuporose insanity following hypnotism, 345.

Nomenclature. Uniform nomenclature in orthopedic surgery, Townsend, W. R., 413.

Northrup, W. P. Tuberculosis in children, primary infection in the bronchial lymph nodes, 143.

Nothing new under the sun, Foote, 102.

Obstetrics. Recent progress in obstetrics, Green, C. M., 87.

Œdema. Angioneurotic œdema, Mumford, J. G., 235; case of acute local œdema complicated with purpura and salivation, Holmes, W. H., 481.

Œsophagus. Further observations on permanent tubage of the œsophagus, Mixter, S. J., 5, 11.

Orexin. Effects of orexin on assimilation, Kotliar, E. T., 222.

Orthopraxy. The etiology of lateral curvature of the spine, Lovett, R. W., 6; necrosis of the ribs, complicating Pott's disease, Wiegel, L. A., 168; the relation of orthopædic surgery to general surgery, Shaffer, N. M., 203; a cheap hip-splint, Lovett, R. W., 259; an apparatus for the correction of talipes equino varus, Dane, J., 260.

Osgood, H. The outcome of personal experience in the application of hypnotism and hypnotic suggestion, 277, 289, 303.

Osler. Multiple cysticerci or cesto-tuberculosis, 192.

Ostermayer. Sulphate of duboisine as a sedative and hypnotic agent, 273.

Otis, W. J. Method of high rectal inspection, 461.

Ott. Periodicity of physiological functions in women, 126.

Ovariotis. The pathology and treatment of chronic ovaritis, Skene, A. J. C., 597.

Page, R. C. M. Phthisis, its classification, early diagnosis and relations to chronic pneumonia, 142.

Palmer, L. M. Case of a man struck by lightning, recovery, 234.

Palpation. An aid to palpation, Chlapowski, 519.

Pancreas. Cyst of the pancreas treated by laparotomy and drainage, recovery, Richardson, M. H., 111.

Parisi. Cocoa-nut oil as an anthelmintic, 150.

Parrot. Arrow poison of the pigmies, 590.

Parkes, C. T. Polypoid myoma, 559; pregnant uterus with fibroid tumor, 559; laparotomy for extra-uterine pregnancy two months after death of fœtus at term, 560.

Parotiditis from pneumococci, 147.

Petresco. Digitalis in pneumonia, 520.

Phlegmasia dolens. The report of a case of phlegmasia dolens, Thompson, G. E., 604, 605.

Phthisis, its classification, early diagnosis and relations to chronic pneumonia, Page, R. C. M., 142; combination of operative treatment with Koch's remedy in phthisis, Sonnenburg, 150; the treatment of the pyrexia of phthisis, Williams, 494; the treatment of phthisis by medicated air under pressure, See, G., 519; iodide of potassium for the diagnosis of phthisis, Sticker, 568.

Physiology. Vital phenomena after decapitation, Laborde, 590.

Pick. Progressive paralysis, 102.

Poisons. A new source of arsenic poisoning, Swift, W. N., 185; a stomach, œsophagus and duodenum showing the caustic effects of a fatal dose of carbolic acid, Draper, F. W., 11; arrow poison of the pigmies, Parke, 590.

Polikier. Foreign bodies in the œsophagus, 466.

Polk, W. M. Conservatism in dealing with the appendages, 536.

Pomeroy, O. D. Some points on the pathogenesis of aural vertigo, 213.

Porter, C. B. The removal of the appendix during a remission in cases of recurrent attacks of appendicitis, 68; in recurring appendicitis is excision of the appendix during a remission a justifiable operation and if so, in what class of cases, and how, should it be done? 68, 325.

Post, Abner. Prostatotomy in a patient of forty-two, 405.

Potain. Interlobar pleurisy, 543.

Potter, W. W. Address before the Medical Society of the State of New York, 167.

Potts, C. Treatment of epilepsy by the combined usage of antipyrine and bromide of ammonium, 126.

Pott's Disease. Necrosis of the ribs complicating Pott's disease, Wiegel, L. A., 168.

Powers, C. A. Brief notes on gastrostomy, with report of a successful case, 168.

Practice of Medicine. No medical practice law in Wisconsin as yet, Wingate, U. O. B., 275; regulation of the practice of medicine in Rhode Island, Haller, J. F., 301, 322; a bill providing for the registration of physicians in Massachusetts, 343, 346.

Pregnancy, Affections connected with. Precocious maternity, Evans, A. T., 20; a case of tubal pregnancy, with rupture and fatal hæmorrhage at an early stage, Draper, F. W., 28, 41; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, operation at the ninth month, recovery, Cushing, E. W., 30, 42; recent progress in obstetrics, Green, C. M., 87; an extra-uterine fœtus and placenta, removed at the ninth month by abdominal section, Cushing, E. W., 137; a case of Cæsarian section, Kelly, H., 192; on the extraction of the after-coming head and arms, Reynolds, E., 205; hypertrophy of anterior lip of cervix as a possible bar to pregnancy, Forster, E. J., 336; report of 1168 cases of labor in private practice, Dunn, W. A., 451, 462; the necessity for immediate surgical intervention in lacerations of the perineum, 516; unsuspected ectopic gestation, Formad, H. F., 537; pregnant uterus with fibroid tumor, Parkes, C. T., 559; tubal pregnancy with two ova in the same Fallopian tube, Fenger, C., 559; a case of hemicephalus with hydramnion, Foster, A. H., 560; laparotomy for extra-uterine pregnancy two months after death of fœtus at full term, Parkes, C. T., 560; cœliotomy for rupture of the uterus during labor, Coe, H. C., 578; ruptured tubal pregnancy, Ashby, T. A., 586; the report of a case of phlegmasia dolens, Thompson, G. E., 604, 605.

Prescott, W. H., and Goldthwait, J. E. Observations on tuberculosis of the kidney, with a report of cases, 61.

Prince, M. Pathology of hysterical joint disease, 260.

Privies. Disinfection of privies, Gerloczy, 274.

Prostatomy in a patient of forty-two, Post, A., 405.

Prostitution. The regulation of prostitution, 198.

Prussic acid. The action of prussic acid in tuberculosis of the lung, Koritschoner, 394.

Pupura hæmorrhagica rheumatica, Brinton, W., 585,

Putnam. Tumor of the brain, 607.

Putnam, J. J. Cases of pain (on walking) in the sole of the foot, radiating out to certain toes, 607; the character of the evidence as to the injuriousness of arsenic as a domestic poison, 623.

Pyoktanin. Injections of pyoktanin in cystitis, Nencki, L., 126.

Quarantine. The vaccinal protection of passengers from Cuba, Montizambert, F., 15; maritime sanitation at ports of arrival, Horlbeck, H. B., 15.

Quenu. Operation for opening the posterior mediastinum, 591.

Quinine. Effects of quinine on the healing of wounds, Sokoloff, 544.

Raabe. Convenient urine tests, 520.

Rabies, Johnson, F. W., 313.

Railroad. Liabilities for railroad accidents, 21; railroad surgery, Herrick, C. B., 169.

Raymond. Treatment of sewage by precipitation and stagnation, 15; sanitary improvement of lakes near the sea-shore, 15.

Raynaud's Disease. A contribution to the diagnosis of Raynaud's disease, Jacoby, G. W., 118.
Recent Progress. Nervous system, Knapp, P. C., 8, 31; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 58; obstetrics, Green, C. M., 87; legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 112; therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 208; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 232; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 287, 509; gynecology, Davenport, F. H., 334; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 357, 383, 407, 506; mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 527; anatomy, Dwight, T., 554; recent progress in the diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 628.
Registration. English registration, 515; State regulation of the practice of medicine in Pennsylvania, 565.
Resorcin in septic poisoning, Andeer, 197.
Respiratory System. Recent progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 58; a pin in the larynx, Hooper, F. H., 114; phthisis, its classification, early diagnosis and relations to chronic pneumonia, Page, R. C. M., 142; trans-illumination of the air-cavities of the head and of the larynx, Hooper, F. H., 191; lobar pneumonia with the formation of new connective tissue, Delafield, F., 240; the therapeutics of pulmonary phthisis, Shurley, E. L., 240; impaction of artificial teeth in the larynx, Browne, L., 298; treatment of the various forms of pulmonary consumption by inoculation with vaccine lymph, with presentation of cases, Tyndale, J. H., 363; the effect of gravitation on the form of the thorax, Stuart, A., 494; respiratory system, Mackenzie, J. N., 519; tracheal tugging, MacDonnell, 519; digitalis in pneumonia, Petresco, 520; interlobar pleurisy, Potain, 543; the specific and non-specific treatment of pulmonary consumption, Mays, T. J., 551; iodide of potassium for the diagnosis of phthisis, Sticker, 568; pulmonary syphilis in the adult, Satterthwaite, T. E., 573, 583, 600; a five-inch hair-pin in the right posterior nares, Kelliher, M. W., 579; pulmonary syphilis in the adult, 588.
Retinol, 394.
Reynolds, E. On the extraction of the after-coming head and arms, 205, 215.
Rheumatic flat-foot, Harrington, F. B., 354.
Richardson, M. H. Cyst of the pancreas treated by laparotomy and drainage, recovery, 111, 116.
Ridlon, J. The non-operative treatment of delayed union in fracture of the leg, 411.
Roberts, J. R. A form of gingivitis common to men and dogs in India, 471.
Roger and Charrin. Bacteria and exhaustion, 345.
Roosa, D. B. St. J. The causes of asthenopia, 189.
Ross, J. F. W. An inquiry into our present knowledge of the progress of myomatous tumors, 239.
Rotch, T. M. Recent progress in the diseases of children, 628.
Rummo and Ferranini. Cardiac remedies, 321.
Sachs, B. Contributions to the pathology of infantile cerebral palsies, 486.
Salipyrin, Gultmann, 150.
Satterthwaite, T. E. Pulmonary syphilis in the adult, 573, 583, 600.
Scarlet Fever. Contagiousness of scarlet fever, diphtheria and some other common diseases, 243.
Scholarships. New scholarships at the Harvard Medical School, 567.
Schlotz, F. Chlorosis and its treatment, 174.
Scudder, C. L. Excision at the elbow, ultimate results at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Mass., 375.
Sears, G. G. Recent progress in thoracic diseases, 58.
Sears laboratories of the Harvard Medical School, 121, 125.
Sedgwick, W. T. An epidemic of typhoid fever in Lowell, Mass., 397, 426.
See, G. Treatment of phthisis by medicated air under pressure, 519.
See, M. Chloral as a coagulant, 346.
Seguin, E. C. Early diagnosis of some serious diseases of the nervous system, its importance and feasibility, 129, 177, 201.
Sewage. Treatment of sewerage by precipitation and stagnation, Raymond, 15; sewage, application to land the best method of treatment, Barnes, H. J., 229, 236, 256.
Seymour, W. W. The treatment of gall stones, 241.
Shaffer, N. M. The relation of orthopædic surgery to general surgery, 203.
Sharon sanitarium, 246.
Shattuck, F. C. A case of suppurating unilocular hydatid cyst of the liver, with multiple hepatic abscess, 3, 10; tricuspid stenosis, with the report of a case and specimen, 307, 315.
Shurley, E. L. The therapeutics of pulmonary phthisis, 240; address on general medicine, 488.
Simon, C. E. Ehrlich's test, 418.
Skene, A. J. C. Pathology and treatment of chronic ovaritis, 536, 597.
Skin-grafting. Notes on skin-grafting, with report of a case operated by Thiersch's method, Thorndike, P., 157, 163.
Small-pox. Identity of small-pox and cow-pox, Eternod and Haxiers, 591.
Smith, J. Changes in the blood and urine of the insane, 345.
Snakes. Strychnine in snake-bite, Mueller, 495.
Societies. American Medical Association, 465, 466, 488, 495, 509, 535; American Public Health Association, 15; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 10, 65, 114, 191, 260, 289, 435, 482, 580; Boston Society for Medical Observation, 90, 313, 388, 512, 605; Gynecological Society of Chicago, 559; Harvard Medical School Association, 174, 463, 468; Johns Hopkins Medical Society, 192, 338; Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health, 119; Massachusetts Medical Society, 189, 571, 607, 631; Medical and Surgical Society of Baltimore, 585; New York Academy of Medicine, 142, 266, 411, 583; New York County Medical Association, 12, 363; New York State Medical Society, 167, 186, 213, 239; New York Medico-Legal Society, 94, 216; New York Neurological Society, 117, 315, 409, 485; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 215, 336, 461, 557, 592; Suffolk District Medical Society, 36, 94, 137, 163, 236, 361, 458, 531, 637.
Sokoloff. Effect of quinine on the healing of wounds, 544.
Sonnenburg. Combination of operative treatment with Koch's remedy in phthisis, 150.
Spasm. The use of atropia in treatment of localized muscular spasm, Leszynsky, W. M., 315.
Spielhagen. Sterilization of nail-brushes, 471.
Spina bifida. A case of spina bifida, Lathrop, W. H., 114; two cases of spina bifida, Bradford, E. H., 352, 361; spontaneous cure of a spina bifida, Lovett, R. W., 361.
Statistics. The study of statistics, 563.
Stedman, H. R. Report on mental diseases, 527.
Stedman, J. Cerebral tumors with clinical cases, 79, 90.
Stennett, W. W. An untreated amputation by a locomotive, 591.
Sticker. Iodide of potassium for the diagnosis of phthisis, 568.
Stickney, C. W. A surgico-legal case, 207.
Stomach. A case of extensive resection of the stomach, 269.
Stone, A. K. Shall tuberculin be promiscuously used? 247; Arnold sterilizer, 363.
Stone, J. S. Can the gynecologist aid the alienist in institutions for the insane? 536.
Strong, C. P. Amenorrhœa, clinical report of four cases successfully treated by galvanism, 382, 388.
Strychnine in snake-bite, Mueller, 495.
Stuart, A. The effect of gravitation on the form of the thorax, 494.
Sturgis, F. R. A plea for rapid dilatation, Holt's operation in the treatment of urethral strictures, 187.
Sturgis, R. A case of slough of the lip in a diabetic patient, 261; suggestive therapeutics, 442.
Styrone, Newell, O. K., 434.
Sulphonal. Dangers of sulphonal, Bresslauer, 590.
Surgery. Recent progress in surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 357, 383, 407, 506; the Fifth French Congress of Surgery, 438.
Swift, J. B. Some observations on anteflexion of the uterus, 504, 513.
Swift, W. N. A new source of arsenic poisoning, 185.
Syphilis. Pulmonary syphilis in the adult, Satterthwaite, T. E., 573, 583, 600; pulmonary syphilis in the adult, 588; a case of syphilitic endocarditis with remarks, Greene, E. M., 626.
Takaki. Beri-beri in Japan, 20.
Tapeworm. Cocoa-nut oil as an anthelmintic, Parisi, 150.
Tattooing. A method for removing tattoo marks, Variot, 274.
Taylor, F. W. A case of acute endocarditis, 159.
Teeth. Impaction of artificial teeth in the larynx, Browne, L., 298.
Temple, W. F. A case of aneurism of each carotid, one involving the innominate, 136, 138.
Tests. Convenient urine tests, Raabe, 520.
Tetanus. The treatment of tetanus by injection, Baginsky, 274.
Thacher, James, M.D., of Plymouth, Mass., Brewster, J. B., 571, 595.
Thermo-palpation, Benczur and Jonas, 126.
Thomas, H. Cerebral syphilis, 338.
Thompson, G. E. Report of a case of phlegmasia dolens, 604, 605.
Thompson, J. M. The dispensary abuse, 199.
Thorndike, P. Notes on skin-grafting, with report of a case operated by Thiersch's method, 157, 163; the operative treatment of rectal cancer, with especial reference to Kraske's sacral method, 453, 461.
Tobacco. The influence of tobacco on the process of digestion, Ydan-Pouchkine, 298.
Todd, H. J. McC. Ainhum, 519.
Toulmin. Leukæmia, 338.
Townsend, G. J. The first operation under ether, 75.
Townsend, W. R. Uniform nomenclature in orthopedic surgery, 413.
Toxalbumin and immunity from diphtheria, Fraenkel, 49.
Tuberculosis. On the treatment of tuberculosis by Koch's method, Dujardin-Beaumetz, 1; the treatment of surgical tuberculosis by Koch's method, 22; Koch's treatment of tuberculosis, Ernst, H. C., 22, 77, 105; directions for using Koch's remedy for tuberculosis, 44; views and results from various sources, 45; observations on tuberculosis of the kidney, with a report of cases, Johnson, W. H., and Goldthwait, J. E., 61; tuberculosis in children, some phenomena attending initial injections with Koch's fluid, 64; tuberculosis in children, primary infection in the bronchial lymph nodes, Northrup, W. P., 143; a note on extracts from tubercle cultures, Jeffries, J. A., 185; disinfection of tuberculous sputum, Kirchner, M., 222; the value of subcutaneous administration of gold and manganese in the treatment of tuberculosis, White, J. B., 266; Professor Liebreich's remedy for tuberculosis, 273; transmission of tuberculosis by milk, Dauz, 273; tuberculosis in meat, 366; tuberculosis of animals in New York, 393; report on seven cases of tuberculosis treated by parataloid, Jones, C. M., and Jeffries, J. A., 445; reports on treatment with tuberculin, 467; further experience with tuberculin in New York hospitals, 492.
Tumors. An enquiry into our present knowledge of the progress of myomatous tumors, Ross, J. F. W., 239.
Tyndale, J. H. Treatment of the various forms of pulmonary consumption by vaccination with vaccine lymph, with presentation of cases, 363; an open letter to Prof. Robert Koch of Berlin, 616.
Typhoid Fever. Variability and varieties of the typhoid bacillus, 47; an epidemic of typhoid fever in Lowell, Mass., Sedgwick, W. T., 397, 426; on an application of agar-plate culture to water analysis, with special reference to the detection of the bacillus of typhoid fever, Hazen, A., and White, F. W., 407.
Urinary System. Demonstration of modus operandi of the treatment of urethral strictures by electrolysis, Newman, R., 12; detection of biliary pigments in urine, 21; observations on tuberculosis of the kidney, with a report of cases, Johnson, W. H., and Goldthwait, J. E., 61; a case of nephrolithotomy (following nephrectomy) for total suppression of the urine lasting five days, recovery, 63; a fatal case of perineal section for rupture of the urethra, Mixter, S. J., 115; injections of pyoktanin in cystitis, Nencki, L., 126; supra-pubic cystotomy for the removal of foreign bodies with report of a successful case, Gage, H., 132; the remains of a broken lead-pencil (surrounded by phosphatic deposits), and the metal tip of the pencil removed from the bladder by perineal section, Monks, G. H., 182; the progress of cystoscopy in the last three years, Meyer, W., 186; a plea for rapid dilatation, Holt's operation in the treatment of urethral strictures, Sturgis, F. R., 187; Koch's remedy in genito-urinary tuberculosis, 341; primary cancer of the kidney, Irish, J. C., 362; prostatotomy in a patient of forty-two, Post, A., 405; Ehrlich's test, 418; nephrectomy for pyonephrosis, Elliot, J. W., 457, 458; general consideration of mortality of renal operations,

Watson, F. S., 458; albuminuria, etiology and prognosis, Jackson, H., 477, 482; the effect of asparagus on the urine, Nencki, 495; convenient urine tests, Raabe, 520; the treatment of acute urethritis, Allen, G. W., 525, 533; physiological albuminuria, 539; cases of renal colic, Allen, G. W., 627.

Vaccination. The vaccinal protection of passengers from Cuba, Montizambert, F., 15; new researches on variola vaccine 100; another antivaccination tirade, 121; third report of the Royal Commission on Vaccination, 145.

Van Pelt, G. W. Notes of five cases from Dr. Apostoli's clinic in Paris, 283.

Varicella in an adult, Ayer, J. B., 607.

Variot. A method for removing tattoo marks, 274.

Virchow, R. The effects of Koch's treatment, 97; Virchow's seventieth birthday, 441.

Voit, Bauer and Eichhorst. The nutritive value of rectal injections of egg albumen, 568.

Walcher. To control hæmorrhage after laparotomy, 102.

Walker, M. A. The internal use of the simple astringents, 569.

Warren, J. C. The parasitic origin of cancer, 53, 66; five cases of laparotomy for pelvic abscess, 183.

Warren triennial prize, 175.

Water. Artesian wells of Charleston, S. C., Bell, A. N., 15; the Bohemian watering places, Cushing, E. W., 402; on an application of agar-plate culture to water analysis, with special reference to the detection of the bacillus of typhoid fever, Hazen, A., and White, F. W., 407; the Massachusetts report on water-supplies, 516.

Wathen, W. H. The technique of successful abdominal and pelvic surgery, 536.

Watson, F. S. General consideration of mortality of renal operations, 458.

Watson, W. P. Repeal of charter of Medical and Surgical College of New Jersey, 299.

Webber, S. G. An epidemic of influenza, 480.

Whelpley, H. M. To be remembered, 102.

White, J. B. The value of subcutaneous administration of gold and manganese in the treatment of tuberculosis, 266.

Whooping-cough. The contagion of whooping-cough, Eigenbrodt, 346.

Wiegel, L. A. Necrosis of the ribs complicating Pott's disease, 168.

Williams, F. H. Report on therapeutics, 208.

Williams, H. Hypnotism, 355.

Williams. The treatment of the pyrexia of phthisis, 494.

Wingate, U. O. B. No medical practice law in Wisconsin as yet, 275.

Winkler and Bollaan. Idiocy and the obstetric forceps, 471.

Yellow Fever. Inoculation by mosquitoes against yellow fever, Finlay and Delgado, 273; immunity from yellow fever, Freire, D., 370.

Ydan-Pouchkine. The influence of tobacco on the process of digestion, 298.

Zaleski. Testing for iron in organs, 346.

Zuelzer. An alkaloid derived from tubercle bacilli, 394.